

Council Debates On Matter Of Raising Hogs In Borough

Finally Agree On Resolution Submitting Proposition To The Board Of Health Before Final Action

LESLIE F. HOPFER IS NEW COUNCILMAN

The regular session of Council held in the Council chamber last evening was attended by but eight of the twelve members, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in strenuousness before the session ended.

The automobile and motor cycle racers, the lowly pig and several other popular topics were discussed at length, some of the members showing a great deal of heat in the discussions.

Street Commissioner Graham made report concerning the activities of his street and showed a great deal of street work being accomplished this spring.

Borough Engineer Hess reported on South Fourth street sewer and repair and on North Fourth street. Also that he was engaged in making preliminary surveys for paving of Martin street.

The usual number of bills were presented and ordered paid.

Mr. Leitzinger of Highway Department stated that his department had directed the placing of a brick gutter in the alley in rear of Dorey and on Dorey street to remedy surface water complaint in that section and the recommendation was agreed to.

Matter of the election of a councilman from the Fourth Ward to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Al Coudrick was taken up and Mr. Heck presented the name of Leslie F. Hopfer and he was unanimously elected.

A resolution was offered and unanimously adopted designating as "Graham Avenue" the alley or avenue leading from Dorey street to the Woodland road between Ninth and Tenth streets in the Fourth Ward.

Councilman Thorn, of the Third Ward, presented the request of a number of citizens of the town for a rescinding of the Board of Health rule relative to the keeping of pigs within the borough limits. Mr. Thorn thought it would be a decided advantage for many working men if they were allowed to keep a pig, as the expense of feeding same would be small from time to time. The matter was discussed at length and it was finally agreed that a resolution covering the subject should be prepared and presented to the Board of Health for their recommendation and then presented again to council at its next meeting for final action.

James Redding made application for and was granted a concrete curb and gutter grade for his Cherry street property.

List of defective sidewalks in Fourth Ward was handed in by a citizen and same turned over to Street Commissioner Graham in order that the proper legal notice to build could be served on the property owners.

The street employees presented a request for an increase of 25c per day in their wages and on motion of Mr. Heck, seconded by Mr. Leitzinger, same was granted. The wages for all street employees will now be $2.25 per day.

Mr. Hagerty of Finance Committee presented a report in which they discussed the borough finances at length and urged economy in appropriations and retrenchment along all lines. The report stated that the millage for borough and light and water purposes could be allowed to remain the same as it was last year, but that on account of the $75,000 bond issue voted last year they found it necessary to increase the bond millage two mills.

An ordinance providing for the following millage was then presented and unanimously adopted:

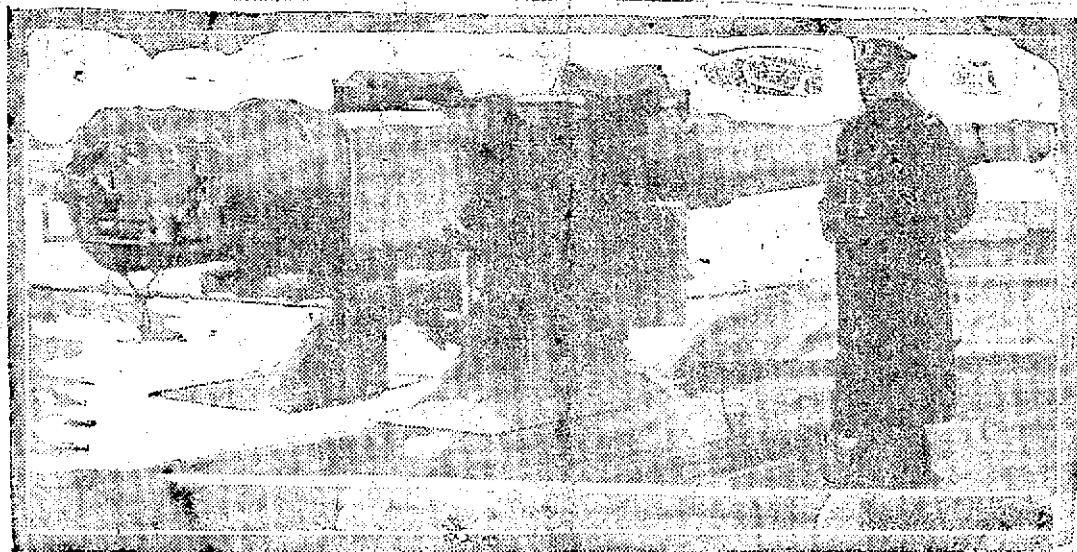

General Boro. Fund, 4 mills.
Borough Bond Fund, 5 mills.
Light and Water Fund, 2 mills.

Thus it will be seen that the millage in Clearfield borough for all tax purposes for the year 1917 will be 27 mills divided as follows:

Borough tax, 11 mills.
School tax, 17 mills.
County tax, 9 mills.

The total valuation of the borough is $3,005,086 and therefore the people of Clearfield will be expected to dig up $111,183.15 in borough, school and county taxes during 1917.

This Gun of the St. Louis Fought a Battle With Submarine

Three shots from this six-inch gun on the stern of the American liner St. Louis rang out when a German submarine was sighted at St. George's Channel on her last trip. It was the first attack of a first class American passenger liner on a German submarine. The submarine commander, fearing the accuracy of the American gunners, refused to return the fire. Instead he ducked beneath the waves for protection. At the right Captain Herbert Hartley, the American-born citizen who was placed in command of the vessel when she was first armed, is shown.

Whitman Refuses To Extradite Birdseye

State Will Sue For Recovery of Money Looted From Company

Pittsburg, May 17.—Suit will be brought by the state of Pennsylvania as soon as possible for the recovery of three million dollars secured by Clarence F. Birdseye out of the funds of the Pittsburg Life & Trust Co. The following will be the defendants in the proceedings, State Insurance Commissioner Denny O'Neil declared today: Clarence F. Birdseye, twelve former directors of the company headed by W. H. Nimick, the Commercial Trust Company of New York, which financed Birdseye, Trask & Prescott, of New York brokers through whom Birdseye made several deals in disposing of realty and other assets of the Pittsburg Life & Trust Co.

Albany, N. Y., May 17.—Governor Whitman today refused the request of the Pennsylvania authorities for the extradition of Clarence F. Birdseye and his son Kellogg Birdseye wanted in Pittsburg in connection with the wrecking of the Pittsburg Life & Trust company.

MARRIED TUESDAY EVENING

Harry McNeal and Miss Dora A. Garner, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the West Side parsonage by Rev. Resh Tuesday evening, May 15th and are being kept busy receiving the congratulations of their friends.

The groom is a member of the Clearfield Electric company and a promising young man, while his bride is the efficient and obliging cashier at Jordans' restaurant, who possesses all the graces necessary for a charming helpmate.

The Progress joins in the congratulations and wishes them a long, happy and prosperous wedded life.

DOGS RUNNING AT LARGE

Keep the dog tied up or have the animal shot is the quest and word of warning issued by the state game commission just now. Owners of dogs must remember the law forbids dogs running at large in the woods at this time of year.

A bunch of bounds are racing through Polks Bottom daily and a representative of the game commission armed with a rifle will be located in these woods next week with orders to kill every dog in sight. In addition thereto the owners of each dog shot will be asked to pay the $10 fine prescribed by the game laws.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE PIG QUESTION

The question of pigs or no pigs for Clearfield will be submitted to council for final action at the regular meeting on Wednesday evening, June 6th. This promises to be some question and we would be glad to publish the views of our readers on the subject.

Give us your ideas for publication in order that council may be properly informed as to public sentiment before final action.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my friends for their kindness during the illness and death of my husband William Meise.

REVENUE BILLS THROUGH HOUSE

But Their Fate in the Senate is Uncertain.

WOULD RAISE MANY MILLIONS

By Terms of Woodward Measures No Less Than $4,000,000 Might be Collected as a Tax on Petroleum, Natural Gas and Coal—Mothers' Pension Bill Reduced.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 17.—A constructive piece of revenue legislation is through the house and up to the senate for final consideration. It is the Woodward series of bills placing a tax of two per cent on crude petroleum, natural gas and coal of all kinds. The income from this taxation is variously estimated, the lowest estimate being $4,000,000 and the highest $7,000,000.

So necessary is revenue legislation to meet the increased departmental expenses and the demands of charitable institutions that the passage of these measures was not attended by a debate of any sort. But four votes were recorded against the bills.

It is difficult to predict what will happen to the bills in the senate. Though the members of the upper branch realize the necessity of a rehabilitation of the treasury, many of them are outspoken against increasing the taxation burden at this particular time. They feel that increased state taxation, added to the general government tax program that is certain to be adopted at Washington, would prove too great a hardship on the people.

Must Have Revenue.

On the other hand, if the Woodward revenue raisers are not enacted into laws, together with kindred revenue bills, hospitals cannot expect increased appropriations, despite the fact that never before has it been so necessary for the state to lend a helping hand in that direction. The cost of everything used about a hospital has mounted almost to a prohibitive figure and this, of course, includes foodstuffs. In addition hospital help is being paid the high dollar due to a scarcity of labor.

But, as already indicated in these articles, it would be folly to pass large or appropriation bills without money in the treasury to meet the sums allotted. The two chambers of the appropriation committees do not intend to make this mistake and they are

Argentine Prohibits Exportation Of Wheat

May Embroil South American Nation In Conflict With England

Buenos Ayres, May 17.—The Argentine government today announced prohibition on the exportation of wheat. It was the government's second announcement of an embargo. The first effective early in April was held in abeyance owing to the protestations of Great Britain backed by the United States. At that time, England agreed to return the wheat when the crops in Australia were harvested. Whether the embargo is without regard to this agreement with England was not made known.

HAIG REPORTS PROGRESS

London, May 17.—More progress around Bullecourt was reported in Field Marshal Haig's statement today. "There was fighting around Bullecourt again with progress further through the village and we reached the western edge."

holding in committee the hospital bills until they are able to determine definitely the fate of the measures to give the state more sources of revenue.

The mothers' pension bill is out on the house calendar in reduced form. It calls for $400,000, or just one-half the amount sought by the members of mothers' pension boards. But there is little complaint heard regarding the reduction, as the amount favored is about $15,000 more than appropriated two years ago.

A bill tending moving picture films has been put in the house by Representative Eyer, of Philadelphia, and will be pushed vigorously. The owner-lessee of a film would have to pay the tax upon approval of the picture by the board of censors. It is specified that the revenue thus raised be used in paying the insurance on state property.

Teachers' Pension in Doubt.

Low funds may be the means of blocking passage of the teachers' pension bill, which up until the present had more than a fair chance of getting through. In fact this bill did pass the senate and was progressing through the house when halted and returned to committee to await revenue developments.

As introduced, the bill provides that one-half of the pension fund be appropriated by the state and the other one-half by the teachers. Now the lawmakers feel that the state could not stand a fifty per cent drain and they suggest that the fund be made up in three parts, instead of two. That is to say, the state stand one-third, the teachers one-third and the school districts the remaining one-third. According to the advocates of this plan the condition of the state treasury makes it impossible for the state to assume one-half of this burden. They do not hesitate to predict that unless such an arrangement is made there will be no teachers' pension legislation at this session.

The house has passed finally three bills relative to the liquor business. Two others were postponed. The measures passed are the Smith bill, prohibiting cabarets; Ramsey bill, prohibiting the free lunch, and the Sinclair bill, fixing closing hours for saloons. The liquor element did not oppose any of the measures.

Representatives William Davis, of Cambria, and Walters, of Clearfield, were postponed. The latter, who is an attorney, said it would stop at dances at summer hotels and interfere with amusements that were not induced by the liquor sold in an hotel. Davis charged that it would prevent a country hotelkeeper from dancing with members of his own family.

Pittsburgh Restaurant Man Is Under Arrest---Soldiers Poisoned

Pittsburg, May 17.—Fifty soldiers of a Philadelphia company guarding the Pittsburg district were ill today with poisoning similar to that which caused the death of Lieut. Wm. S. Corcoran. Carl Miller, proprietor of the restaurant is now under arrest and in close confinement. No more deaths are expected to result. The men declared unreservedly that the men were poisoned by food but whether it was due to poisoning or not they were not certain they said. Examination of the body of Lieut. Corcoran late today may disclose the exact nature of the poison. Fifty-one men ate the pudding at the Miller restaurant and one escaped owing to having not eaten any. Many only touched a little of it, declaring that it tasted "bad." These were only taken slightly ill.

Many Clearfielders To Go To DuBois Tonight

Interest Growing in Favor of The Great Cross State Highway

Representatives from every town and city in Central and Western Pennsylvania through which the proposed Great Cross state highway will pass, including Clearfield, will assemble this evening in DuBois to consider the organization of an association to project the proposed highway. North, south, east and west are represented at the gathering, there being considerable competition between the residents along the proposed route passing through Clearfield, Philipsburg, Tyrone, Altoona, and thence southward to Bedford, and the residents along the route which does not include Clearfield but takes in Patton and Johnstown continuing to Bedford.

The delegates to the organization meeting will assemble following supper at the Logan House. Various commercial organizations motor clubs and citizens will be in attendance at the meeting. The principal addresses will be made by Melville H. James, secretary of the William Penn Highway association and P. G. Rimmer, president of the General Sullivan Trail association. Both men are well versed in road matters and will be able to give the delegates some valuable information regarding the formation of an association.

A majority of the delegates motored to DuBois and will return this evening.

MISS JANE EDWARDS LEAVES TO BECOME BRIDE

Miss Jane Edwards who has been teacher of Latin in the Clearfield High school for the past four years left last evening for her home in Fairfield, Me. From there she will leave Saturday, May 19th for Liberty, Me., where she will be united in marriage to Donald Matheison of that place.

While in Clearfield Miss Edwards made her home with her aunt, Mrs. Lydia Edwards on West Market street. She was a teacher of wonderful ability and won the love and respect of all her students. Each class of the High school presented Miss Edwards with a handsome gift yesterday morning following chapel. Miss Edwards took a very active part in Class No. 4 of the Presbyterian Sunday school from where she will be greatly missed.

She took with her the best wishes of a host of friends with whom she will always be remembered.

Mr. Brown leaves a host of friends in Clearfield who are confident of his future success in Phillipsburg and who regret very much to see him and his family leave this city.

SPECIAL SALVATION MEETING

Rev. Clegg, of Curwensville, will preach tonight in the Salvation Army hall. He has preached the gospel for twenty years in England and the U. S. He has a very interesting style of delivery which always draws his hearers. His sermons are deep and serious but far from dry, usually giving saint and sinner something profitable to think about. Service at eight o'clock tonight. Everybody welcome.

MRS. W. F. CHAMBERS DIES

Mrs. W. F. Chambers, a well known Clearfield resident, died at her home on Reed street at 10 o'clock last night after a long illness aged about 60 years.

Mrs. Chambers was a devoted and consistent member of Trinity Methodist church and possessed a wide circle of warm friends. She is survived by her husband. Funeral announcement later.

Russ Coalition Cabinet Now Seems Certain

Workmen's And Soldier's Council Proceed To Name Delegates

By Wm. G. Shepherd
Petrograd, May 17.—The Workmen's and Soldier's delegates today nominated five radicals for the proposed coalition cabinet. Those selected were: Minister of Justice Malgouchev, a Socialist Democrat, Minister of Agriculture M. Tchernov, Revolutionary Socialist, Minister of Munitions M. Pjeshonov, People's Socialist. Ministers without portfolios were M. Skoleff, Socialist Democrat, and M. Avksajontev, Revolutionary Socialist. It is now apparent that the crucial period in the dispute between the one hand and the Duma leaders on the other is past. Formation of the coalition cabinet which will support both sides now seems certain.

NEW YORK WORLD CHARGES TREACHERY

(By United Press)
New York, May 16.—Declaring Congress guilty of treachery to the United States the New York World today pleaded for quick action on the army bill.

"It is difficult to write temperately when treachery to the United States, its allies, and the cause of human freedom is revealed by the treatment of the army bill at the hands of Congress," said the World. "A more shameful or shocking example would be difficult to stage even in distracted Russia."

NECESSITY OF PRODUCING AN EXTRA POUND OF POULTRY PRODUCT FOR EVERY MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD IN THE U. S.

(By E. E. Richards, Pres. of the American Poultry Asso.)
Before another hatching season, the great United States will, no doubt, be in the deepest throes of the world's most cruel war and no one can foretell the countless thousands that may be crying for bread. It is up to the United States, the world's greatest, richest, and most resourceful nation, to not only look after the welfare of her own citizens, but to give aid and assistance in supplying food to countless thousands of suffering humanity in the torn and stricken war zone. The great agricultural resources of America must prepare to assume this burden. Every one of us must do our bit. Every acre, every nook and corner must bear its share. It is lucky that in poultry we can produce the cheapest and most quickly produced meat of all the various sources of our meat supply. Here, we have an opportunity of producing an extra one hundred million pounds if the American farmers, the fanciers and breeders will give their attention to hatching during the months of May and June.

It is a well known fact that the available supply of meat products today is the lowest in our country, per capita, in the history of the United States. In order to meet the extremely dangerous condition, we have within ourselves a wonderful opportunity of aiding what may prove to be a world-wide cry for food. Let us all join enthusiastically in the propaganda of helping in the probable time of need, by putting forth now every effort to meet, in a measure, the demand that is sure to come for untold quantities of food stuffs. Never in the history of the world will there be a greater demand than in the next twenty-four months that are to follow.

For the past twenty-four months we have been killing the goose that has been laying the golden egg, and with the hue and cry of costly feed, poultry and all meat products have been soaring far above all the usual estimates as to the relative cost of production, and the selling price. The margin of profit on the production of eggs and poultry for meat is far in excess of the percentage of profit in normal times. But aside from the question of profit, we Americans must look at the situation from a philanthropic and humanitarian standpoint and each and every one "do his bit" to meet an exigency that seems inevitable. Let us all try to be a factor in the production of an extra hundred million pounds of poultry meat which is less than one pound additional for each man, woman and child in the United States.

The United States Department of Agriculture has just issued an estimate that upwards of seven hundred millions of dollars is the annual tribute paid by Americans to the garbage can. Why not convert this into feed to produce poultry and eggs.

Every home can have a self-supporting and profitable flock in the back yard by converting the offal from the table and kitchen into the very choicest of poultry feed. Why such an astounding waste, an utter extravagance that costs us nearly seven dollars for every man, woman and child in the United States? Let every home have a neat poultry house and a few well kept, profitable fowls. The editor of this publication will be only too pleased to co-operate with every reader desiring any information.

It is not unusual for the fanciers to quit hatching with April. Let me urge that hatching be continued during the months of May and June and also during July in a large part of our country. Let the old hen do her part—fill up the incubators—keep them going through May and June—the results will be worth while. Let us be prepared to consume every bit of table and kitchen scraps and make them a source of profit.

German Intrigue In Vatican Circles Thwarted By Italian Secret Service

By Frank Getty
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, May 1.—(By Mail)—A tale of German intrigue reaching into the inner circles of the Vatican, involving the hasty flight of Cardinal Gerlach from Italy, the cracking of a safe in the secret headquarters of the German Embassy at Vienna, and the mysterious escape from prison of Italy's two most notorious criminals, was told for the first time today to the United Press by a reliable authority.

Stranger than fiction, the true story of the inside workings of the Italian secret service in tracking down the pro-German element of the Pope's court forms a dramatic chapter in the secret history of the war.

On the sixth of April, Vienna dispatches announced the burglary of a house, adjoining "but having no connection with," the German Embassy.

A large sum of money was said to have been secured by the robbers, who escaped.

The same night a sensation was caused in Rome by the flight of Cardinal Gerlach across the Swiss border. Italian secret service agents burst in the doors of His Eminence's house two hours after his escape and discovered the machinations of a score of pro-German plots. The next day more than three hundred arrests resulted throughout Italy.

This, for ten days, was all the world knew concerning the workings of the German espionage system. No one connected an insignificant robbery in the Austrian capital with the Cardinal's disappearance and the wholesale arrests of German agents.

Another event which caused little interest at the time of its occurrence, yet which had a direct bearing on the successful breaking up of the Teuton spy nest, was the reported "escape" early in January, of two of Italy's most notorious safe crackers, who had been incarcerated for life in prison at Rome.

What has never been disclosed, until today is the fact that a warrant for their release was signed by the Perfect of the Italian police himself, and that each of the criminals was later given $10,000 by the Italian government. The service they rendered the government proved well worth the price.

For more than two years the Italian secret service, extending its research over a far greater ground than one realizes even today, had succeeded in tracing certain pro-German plots and intrigue in Italy to Vienna. In the Austrian capital, spies succeeded in narrowing the search down to a certain house, adjoining "but having no connection with," the German Embassy.

Had they acted hastily, the spies might have burgled the house, robbed the safe, and even laid hands on a certain set of precious papers the Italian government was keenly interested in. But that is as far as they would have gotten. For attached to the bundle of documents so highly desired by three governments was an intricate series of wires. With almost devilish ingenuity the Germans had provided that if the safe were opened and the papers moved, a cloud of poison gas, deadly in effect, would envelop the disturber and render the entire room in which the safe was located uninhabitable. At the same time a cleverly devised burglar alarm would call sufficient military police to the scene to deal with any number of intruders.

When every detail of the hiding place of the papers had been learned, the secret service agents reported in detail to Rome. On a favorable dark night the "escape" of the famous safe crackers from the prison outside of the Italian capital was arranged and effected. Promised their freedom and ten thousand dollars apiece if they succeeded, the criminals had agreed to undertake the dangerous mission.

How they were smuggled into Vienna one will ever know, but when they did undertake the robbery of the safe, they were provided with gas masks and every tool for safe opening known to the police and criminal world. Cracking the safe and evading the certain death of the alarm signals was a comparatively simple matter for these Jimmy Valentine's of Italy and the papers, which incriminated prominent personages throughout Italy were soon in the possession of the secret service.

For obvious reasons they could not instantly communicate their knowledge to headquarters at Rome, and in the meantime, while announcing the robbery of a "large sum of money," the Austrians succeeded, by means of a secret wireless, in communicating with Cardinal Gerlach, who departed unceremoniously from the papal court. With the evidence in hand, however, the Italian police were able to round up several hundred of the most dangerous German plotters, and to strike into the heart of a Teutonic element in the highest church circles of Rome.

How Sally McBride is persuaded by her good friends, Jervis and Judy Pendleton to assume charge of an orphan asylum and how she succeeds in all told in her delightful letters to the Pendletons, to Gordon Hallock and to Dr. Rabbin Robbin MacRae, the "Dear Enemy" of the title.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

His Wife Was Sitting on the Throne.

(Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.)

THIS is how the bedtime story began: "A fisherman's wife had a discontented nature, I fear," said daddy.

"When she got a cottage she wanted a castle, and the fish-prince who gave her the cottage arranged to give her a castle."

"So when her husband went home after begging this last favor he found his wife standing by the gate of a great castle."

"See," she cried, "isn't this grand?"

"They went into the castle together and found a great many servants there. The rooms were all richly furnished with golden chairs and tables. Behind the castle stood a garden and around it a park half a mile long. It was full of goats and sheep and hares and deer, and in the courtyard were stables and cow-houses."

"Heyday!" cried the fisherman. "Cheerful and happy, now we will live together in this beautiful castle the rest of our days."

"Perhaps," said Isabell, his wife. "But let us sleep upon it before we decide that."

"So they went to bed in the new castle."

The next morning when Dame Isabell awoke it was broad daylight. She jogged her fisherman with her elbow, saying: "Get up, husband. Restir your self, for we must be rulers of the land."

"How can you be queen? Even the enchanted prince can't make you queen of the land," said her surprised husband.

"Say no more about it, but try, as I tell you," said she, "for I will be queen."

"So the fisherman went away very sorrowful to think his wife wanted to be queen. This time the sea looked a dark gray color and was overspread with curling waves and ridges of foam. Said he:

"O man of the sea, hearken to me! My wife Isabell will have her own will And hath sent me to beg a boon of thee!"

"What will please her now?" inquired the fisherman.

"Alas," cried the fisherman, "my wife wants to be a queen!"

"Go home," advised the enchanted fish, "for your wife is queen now."

The fisherman went home. As he neared the castle he saw a troop of soldiers and heard the sound of trumpets and drums, and inside he found his wife sitting upon a throne all covered with diamonds and gold. Daddy finished nection with," the German Embassy. A large sum of money was said to have been secured by the robbers, who escaped.

The same night a sensation was caused in Rome by the flight of Cardinal Gerlach across the Swiss border. Italian secret service agents burst in the doors of His Eminence's house two hours after his escape and discovered the machinations of a score of pro-German plots. The next day more than three hundred arrests resulted throughout Italy.

This, for ten days, was all the world knew concerning the workings of the German espionage system. No one connected an insignificant robbery in the Austrian capital with the Cardinal's disappearance and the wholesale arrests of German agents.

Another event which caused little interest at the time of its occurrence, yet which had a direct bearing on the successful breaking up of the Teuton spy nest, was the reported "escape" early in January, of two of Italy's most notorious safe crackers, who had been incarcerated for life in prison at Rome.

What has never been disclosed, until today is the fact that a warrant for their release was signed by the Perfect of the Italian police himself, and that each of the criminals was later given $10,000 by the Italian government. The service they rendered the government proved well worth the price.

For more than two years the Italian secret service, extending its research over a far greater ground than one realizes even today, had succeeded in tracing certain pro-German plots and intrigue in Italy to Vienna. In the Austrian capital, spies succeeded in narrowing the search down to a certain house, adjoining "but having no connection with," the German Embassy.

Had they acted hastily, the spies might have burgled the house, robbed the safe, and even laid hands on a certain set of precious papers the Italian government was keenly interested in. But that is as far as they would have gotten. For attached to the bundle of documents so highly desired by three governments was an intricate series of wires. With almost devilish ingenuity the Germans had provided that if the safe were opened and the papers moved, a cloud of poison gas, deadly in effect, would envelop the disturber and render the entire room in which the safe was located uninhabitable. At the same time a cleverly devised burglar alarm would call sufficient military police to the scene to deal with any number of intruders.

When every detail of the hiding place of the papers had been learned, the secret service agents reported in detail to Rome. On a favorable dark night the "escape" of the famous safe crackers from the prison outside of the Italian capital was arranged and effected. Promised their freedom and ten thousand dollars apiece if they succeeded, the criminals had agreed to undertake the dangerous mission.

How they were smuggled into Vienna one will ever know, but when they did undertake the robbery of the safe, they were provided with gas masks and every tool for safe opening known to the police and criminal world. Cracking the safe and evading the certain death of the alarm signals was a comparatively simple matter for these Jimmy Valentine's of Italy and the papers, which incriminated prominent personages throughout Italy were soon in the possession of the secret service.

For obvious reasons they could not instantly communicate their knowledge to headquarters at Rome, and in the meantime, while announcing the robbery of a "large sum of money," the Austrians succeeded, by means of a secret wireless, in communicating with Cardinal Gerlach, who departed unceremoniously from the papal court. With the evidence in hand, however, the Italian police were able to round up several hundred of the most dangerous German plotters, and to strike into the heart of a Teutonic element in the highest church circles of Rome.

CURWENSVILLE

A preliminary meeting to prepare for the organization of Curwensville Auxiliary of Clearfield Chapter of the Red Cross society of America was held at 4 P. M. Wednesday, at the Patton school. Mrs. R. D. Swoope presiding and Miss Maggie Eckbert as secretary. Mrs. Swoope explained the need of such an organization, its methods and work. On the payment of one dollar as annual dues and agreeing to aid in the Red Cross work anyone may become a member; such money is equally divided between the national society and the local work. As women are asking what they can do to help in this war the answer is: To help through the Red Cross. Varied are the articles that may be made and among them are socks, wristlets, mufflers, surgical dressings, slings, pillows, compresses. Materials for work including muslin and linen will be needed. It is a patriotic privilege for every man and woman of this community to join this auxiliary and to engage actively in its work. In the near future a great meeting for the community will be held at which well informed speakers will present the great work of the Red Cross society following which the large Curwensville auxiliary of the Red Cross society of America will be fully and formally organized.

Miss Ruth Clark of Clearfield, Pa. visiting her cousin Miss Bessie Clark.

Paul G. Robinson, who has for some time been in Ashland, N. C., is now located at Chattanooga, Tenn., with Co. 10 training military branch.

A. E. Temple was circulating Wednesday among old friends here being entertained by William Miller. Mr. Temple is a member of the United States marine corps in which he is about to complete his enlistment of four years. He was called to Patton to attend the funeral of his father W. R. Temple, who died recently. Mr. Temple returned to the Philadelphia Navy Yard where he is stationed.

Tuesday evening there arrived at the home of Joseph P. Robinson and wife, their grandson Thomas A. Robinson, a student of Yale University, for a short visit en route for his home at Pittsburgh. Mr. Robinson will sail shortly for France where he is to be engaged in the field ambulance service.

Word was received that James Manaval of South Side and Miss Ray Tate, of near Richmond, Va., were united in marriage in Philadelphia on Monday, May 7, 1917. Their many friends here wish them a happy wedded life.

The following are some of the recipients of prizes given away at R. R. Robinson's store Monday evening:

1st prize, kitchen cabinet, Walter Addelman.
2nd prize, chair, Harry Cross.
3rd prize, rug, Mrs. L. Errigo.
4th prize, chair, Mrs. Fruman Smith.
5th prize, suit case, James Harvey, Jr.
6th, rug, Lyman Daugherty.
7th prize water set, Scott Ammerman.

There was a large crowd present. After the regular prayer meeting in the Presbyterian church last evening a congregational meeting was held.

Miss Lulu Haag was taken to the Clearfield hospital suffering from an attack of typhoid fever.

Rev. J. Max Lantz and N. D. Shirey returned home yesterday from Bear run and Montgomery creek where they were angling for trout.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, you can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear full of the nation by going without years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet expedient. It is not intended for more than a thousand dollars, which the cure, mitigation or prevention of will be rated to one of the war relief

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or have Bladder trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poisons, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Girls of Mount Holyoke College have decided to do their "GIR" in behalf of the nation by going without years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet expedient. It is not intended for more than a thousand dollars, which the cure, mitigation or prevention of will be rated to one of the war relief

Special at the Globe Theatre
Doris Moore is happy in village life. She adores the village minister. Leland, of a band of crooks comes to village to induce the minister and his trustees to purchase an organ for their church. The crooks planned to collect in advance, and fail to deliver the organ.

Unaccustomed to men of that type, Doris believes his honeyed words and false praise.

The crooks learn that William Lake is returning East with a large sum of money. Leland sees an opportunity to use Doris to further his schemes, and induces her to go to the city with him.

Priscilla Kate, at whose house the crooks operate, is won over by Doris' innocence and appeal and warns the crooks that she intends to see that harm comes to the girl.

Leland finds Lake and Doris together and says Doris is married to him accuses Lake of making love to his wife, and demands blackmail. See the thrilling ending of this story at the Globe theatre tomorrow.

These Are Days To Test This Store's Ability To Serve You

An Unusual Sale of Coats and Coats for Friday, Saturday and Monday

Important Sale of Women's Suits at $19.75

This sale is important because of the fact that prices are VERY RADICALLY reduced. If we were to name the former prices of the suits the reductions would stand out very, very strong but we do not quote former prices. It is because of this fact that our customers have come to learn that when there is an announcement of reduced prices at THIS store, it is worthy of VERY serious and immediate attention.

In the lot are suits of Poret twill, gabardine, serge and silk. As a matter of course all the accepted styles of the season are included.

A Very Special offering of Women's Coats at $14.95

Every coat in the lot reduced from former costs. And the former prices were low enough to make these coats MIGHTY GOOD VALUES. The styles are becoming to most every woman. They are made of poplin and serge, etc. and are well tailored.

Store Editorial

Men and Women Farmers of the Nation Awaken to the Call of the Nation.

A great opportunity presents itself to men and women in every walk of life to be of great help in the present crisis. You can not alone help the Nation but greatly profit yourself by raising more, and more, and more food stuffs.

First of all, let us say that there is going to be more money in the United States of America than ever before. Think of spending SEVEN BILLION DOLLARS in this country for food stuffs and equipment for the army. Think of the thousands upon thousands of men and women who are to be employed raising food stuffs and turning out the products of the factories.

The only thing we need is a big supply of food. We urge you to plant corn, wheat, potatoes and other food stuffs AT ONCE. Remember, YOU are the one who benefits most.

GLASS OF WATER BEFORE YOU EAT ANY BREAKFAST

Wash poison from system each morning and feel fresh as a daisy

Every day you clean the house you live in to get rid of the rust and dirt which collected through the previous day. Your body, the house your soul lives in, also becomes filled up each twenty-four hours with all manner of filth and poison. If only every man and woman could realize the wonders of drinking phosphated hot water, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sick, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pesty or muddy complexion; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags," and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

Everyone, whether sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarted pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those practicing internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

Council Debates On Matter Of Raising Hogs In Borough

Finally Agree On Resolution Submitting Proposition To The Board Of Health Before Final Action

LESLIE F. HOPFER IS NEW COUNCILMAN

The regular session of Council held in the Council chamber last evening was attended by but eight of the twelve members, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in strenuousness before the session ended.

The automobile and motor cycle racers, the lowly pig and several other popular topics were discussed at length, some of the members showing a great deal of heat in the discussions.

Street Commissioner Graham made report concerning the activities of his street and showed a great deal of street work being accomplished this spring.

Borough Engineer Hess reported on South Fourth street sewer and repair and on North Fourth street. Also that he was engaged in making preliminary surveys for paving of Martin street.

The usual number of bills were presented and ordered paid.

Mr. Leitzinger of Highway Department stated that his department had directed the placing of a brick gutter in the alley in rear of Dorey and on Dorey street to remedy surface water complaint in that section and the recommendation was agreed to.

Matter of the election of a councilman from the Fourth Ward to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Al Cowdick was taken up and Mr. Heck presented the name of Leslie F. Hopfer and he was unanimously elected.

A resolution was offered and unanimously adopted designating as "Graham Avenue" the alley or avenue leading from Dorey street to the Woodland road between Ninth and Tenth streets in the Fourth Ward.

Councilman Thorn, of the Third Ward, presented the request of a number of citizens of the town for a rescinding of the Board of Health rule relative to the keeping of pigs within the borough limits. Mr. Thorn thought it would be a decided advantage for many working men if they were allowed to keep a pig, as the expense of feeding same would be small from time to time. The matter was discussed at length and it was finally agreed that a resolution covering the subject should be prepared and presented to the Board of Health for their recommendation and then presented again to council at its next meeting for final action.

James Redding made application for and was granted a concrete curb and gutter grade for his Cherry street property.

List of defective sidewalks in Fourth Ward was handed in by a citizen and same turned over to Street Commissioner Graham in order that the proper legal notice to build could be served on the property owners.

The street employees presented a request for an increase of 25c per day in their wages and on motion of Mr. Heck, seconded by Mr. Leitzinger, same was granted. The wages for all street employees will now be $2.25 per day.

Mr. Hagerty of Finance Committee presented a report in which they discussed the borough finances at length and urged economy in appropriations and retrenchment along all lines. The report stated that the millage for borough and light and water purposes could be allowed to remain the same as it was last year, but that on account of the $75,000 bond issue voted last year they found it necessary to increase the bond millage two mills.

An ordinance providing for the following millage was then presented and unanimously adopted:

- General Boro. Fund, 4 mills.
- Borough Bond Fund, 5 mills.
- Light and Water Fund, 2 mills.

Thus it will be seen that the millage in Clearfield borough for all tax purposes for the year 1917 will be 27 mills divided as follows:

- Borough tax, 11 mills.
- School tax, 17 mills.
- County tax, 9 mills.

The total valuation of the borough is $3,005,086 and therefore the people of Clearfield will be expected to dig up $111,183.15 in borough, school and county taxes during 1917.

Paris, May 17.—The French advanced their positions north of Molin and Lassaux and again repulsed all German attacks, the official statement declared today. Another series of three German attacking waves were repulsed at Cray-En-Lanis and were likewise checked. All efforts failed, and the enemy suffered heavy losses. Northwest of Cray-En-Lanis the German assaults were checked without the enemy obtaining any results. The statement also detailed patrol fighting in the Champagne.

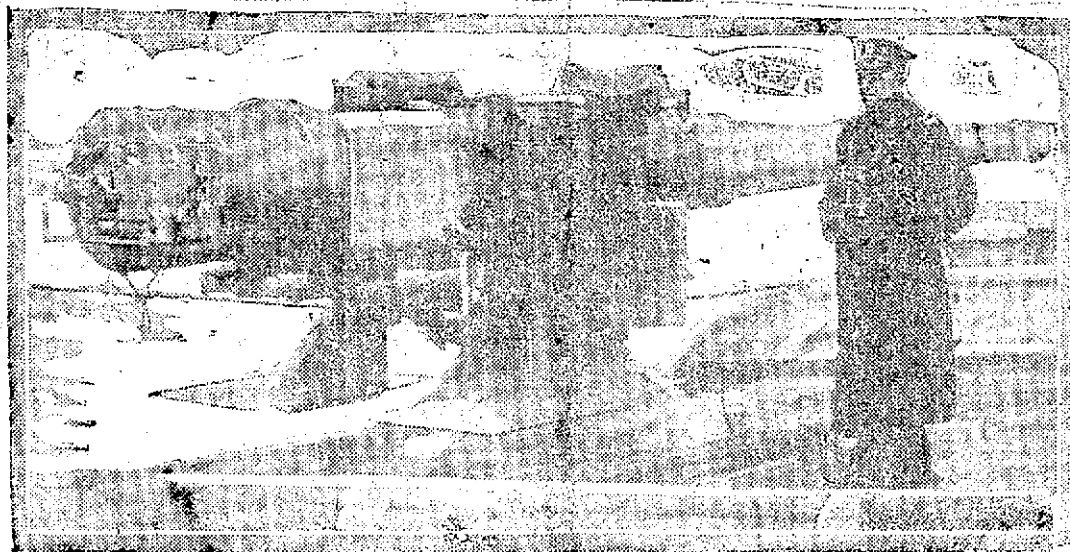

PURCHASED AN OVERLAND

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kephart of Granville, were in Clearfield today on business and while here purchased an Overland automobile from the Lee Garage company, driving home in their new machine.

NOTICE

The Junior Auxiliary of the hospital will meet at the home of Mrs. J. Lewis Irwin on Saturday afternoon at 3:30.

This Gun of the St. Louis Fought a Battle With Submarine

Three shots from this six-inch gun on the stern of the American liner St. Louis rang out when a German submarine was sighted at St. George's Channel on her last trip. It was the first attack of a first class American passenger liner on a German submarine. The submarine commander, fearing the accuracy of the American gunners, refused to return the fire. Instead he ducked beneath the waves for protection. At the right Captain Herbert Hartley, the American-born citizen who was placed in command of the vessel when she was first armed, is shown.

Whitman Refuses To Extradite Birdseye

State Will Sue For Recovery of Money Looted From Company

Pittsburg, May 17.—Suit will be brought by the state of Pennsylvania as soon as possible for the recovery of three million dollars secured by Clarence F. Birdseye out of the funds of the Pittsburg Life & Trust Co. The following will be the defendants in the proceedings, State Insurance Commissioner Denny O'Neil declared today: Clarence F. Birdseye, twelve former directors of the company headed by W. H. Nimick, the Commercial Trust Company of New York, which financed Birdseye, Trask & Prescott, of New York brokers through whom Birdseye made several deals in disposing of realty and other assets of the Pittsburg Life & Trust Co.

Albany, N. Y., May 17.—Governor Whitman today refused the request of the Pennsylvania authorities for the extradition of Clarence F. Birdseye and his son Kellogg Birdseye wanted in Pittsburg in connection with the wrecking of the Pittsburg Life & Trust company.

MARRIED TUESDAY EVENING

Harry McNeal and Miss Dora A. Garner, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the West Side parsonage by Rev. Resh Tuesday evening, May 15th and are being kept busy receiving the congratulations of their friends.

The groom is a member of the Clearfield Electric company and a promising young man, while his bride is the efficient and obliging cashier at Jordans' restaurant, who possesses all the graces necessary for a charming helpmate.

The Progress joins in the congratulations and wishes them a long, happy and prosperous wedded life.

DOGS RUNNING AT LARGE

Keep the dog tied up or have the animal shot is the quest and word of warning issued by the state game commission just now. Owners of dogs must remember the law forbids dogs running at large in the woods at this time of year.

A bunch of bounds are racing through Polks Bottom daily and a representative of the game commission armed with a rifle will be located in these woods next week with orders to kill every dog in sight. In addition thereto the owners of each dog shot will be asked to pay the $10 fine prescribed by the game laws.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE PIG QUESTION

The question of pigs or no pigs for Clearfield will be submitted to council for final action at the regular meeting on Wednesday evening, June 6th. This promises to be some question and we would be glad to publish the views of our readers on the subject.

Give us your ideas for publication in order that council may be properly informed as to public sentiment before final action.

REVENUE BILLS THROUGH HOUSE

But Their Fate in the Senate is Uncertain.

WOULD RAISE MANY MILLIONS

By Terms of Woodward Measures No Less Than $4,000,000 Might be Collected as a Tax on Petroleum, Natural Gas and Coal—Mothers' Pension Bill Reduced.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 17.—A constructive piece of revenue legislation is through the house and up to the senate for final consideration. It is the Woodward series of bills placing a tax of two per cent on crude petroleum, natural gas and coal of all kinds. The income from this taxation is variously estimated, the lowest estimate being $4,000,000 and the highest $7,000,000.

So necessary is revenue legislation to meet the increased departmental expenses and the demands of charitable institutions that the passage of these measures was not attended by a debate of any sort. But four votes were recorded against the bills.

It is difficult to predict what will happen to the bills in the senate. Though the members of the upper branch realize the necessity of a rehabilitation of the treasury, many of them are outspoken against increasing the taxation burden at this particular time. They feel that increased state taxation, added to the general government tax program that is certain to be adopted at Washington, would prove too great a hardship on the people.

Must Have Revenue.

On the other hand, if the Woodward revenue raisers are not enacted into laws, together with kindred revenue bills, hospitals cannot expect increased appropriations, despite the fact that never before has it been so necessary for the state to lend a helping hand in that direction. The cost of everything used about a hospital has mounted almost to a prohibitive figure and this, of course, includes foodstuffs. In addition hospital help is being paid the high dollar due to a scarcity of labor.

But, as already indicated in these articles, it would be folly to pass large or appropriation bills without money in the treasury to meet the sums allotted. The two chambers of the appropriation committees do not intend to make this mistake and they are

May Embroil South American Nation In Conflict With England

Buenos Ayres, May 17.—The Argentine government today announced prohibition on the exportation of wheat. It was the government's second announcement of an embargo. The first effective early in April was held in abeyance owing to the protestations of Great Britain backed by the United States. At that time, England agreed to return the wheat when the crops in Australia were harvested. Whether the embargo is without regard to this agreement with England was not made known.

HAIG REPORTS PROGRESS

London, May 17.—More progress around Bullecourt was reported in Field Marshal Haig's statement today. "There was fighting around Bullecourt again with progress further through the village and we reached the western edge."

holding in committee the hospital bills until they are able to determine definitely the fate of the measures to give the state more sources of revenue.

The mothers' pension bill is out on the house calendar in reduced form. It calls for $400,000, or just one-half the amount sought by the members of mothers' pension boards. But there is little complaint heard regarding the reduction, as the amount favored is about $15,000 more than appropriated two years ago.

A bill taxing moving picture films has been put in the house by Representative Eyer, of Philadelphia, and will be pushed vigorously. The owner-lessee of a film would have to pay the tax upon approval of the picture by the board of censors. It is specified that the revenue thus raised be used in paying the insurance on state property.

Teachers' Pension in Doubt.

Low funds may be the means of blocking passage of the teachers' pension bill, which up until the present had more than a fair chance of getting through. In fact this bill did pass the senate and was progressing through the house when halted and returned to committee to await revenue developments.

As introduced, the bill provides that one-half of the pension fund be appropriated by the state and the other one-half by the teachers. Now the lawmakers feel that the state could not stand a fifty per cent drain and they suggest that the fund be made up in three parts, instead of two. That is to say, the state stand one-third, the teachers one-third and the school districts the remaining one-third. According to the advocates of this plan the condition of the state treasury makes it impossible for the state to assume one-half of this burden. They do not hesitate to predict that unless such an arrangement is made there will be no teachers' pension legislation at this session.

The house has passed finally three bills relative to the liquor business. Two others were postponed. The measures passed are the Smith bill, prohibiting cabarets; Ramsey bill, prohibiting the free lunch, and the Sinclair bill, fixing closing hours for saloons. The liquor element did not oppose any of the measures.

Representatives William Davis, of Cambria, and Walters, of Clearfield, were postponed. The latter, who is an attorney, said it would stop at dances at summer hotels and interfere with amusements that were not induced by the liquor sold in an hotel. Davis charged that it would prevent a country hotelkeeper from dancing with members of his own family.

Pittsburgh Restaurant Man Is Under Arrest---Soldiers Poisoned

Pittsburg, May 17.—Fifty soldiers of a Philadelphia company guarding the Pittsburg district were ill today with poisoning similar to that which caused the death of Lieut. Wm. S. Corcoran. Carl Miller, proprietor of the restaurant is now under arrest and in close confinement. No more deaths are expected to result.

The men declared unreservedly that the men were poisoned by food but whether it was due to poisoning or not they were not certain they said. Examination of the body of Lieut. Corcoran late today may disclose the exact nature of the poison. Fifty-one men ate the pudding at the Miller restaurant and one escaped owing to having not eaten any. Many only touched a little of it, declaring that it tasted "bad." These were only taken slightly ill.

Many Clearfielders To Go To DuBois Tonight

Interest Growing In Favor of The Great Cross State Highway

Representatives from every town and city in Central and Western Pennsylvania through which the proposed Great Cross state highway will pass, including Clearfield, will assemble this evening in DuBois to consider the organization of an association to project the proposed highway. North, south, east and west are represented at the gathering, there being considerable competition between the residents along the proposed route passing through Clearfield, Philipsburg, Tyrone, Altoona, and thence southward to Bedford, and the residents along the route which does not include Clearfield but takes in Patton and Johnstown continuing to Bedford.

The delegates to the organization meeting will assemble following supper at the Logan House. Various commercial organizations motor clubs and citizens will be in attendance at the meeting. The principal addresses will be made by Melville H. James, secretary of the William Penn Highway association and P. G. Rimmer, president of the General Sullivan Trail association. Both men are well versed in road matters and will be able to give the delegates some valuable information regarding the formation of an association.

A majority of the delegates motored to DuBois and will return this evening.

MISS JANE EDWARDS LEAVES TO BECOME BRIDE

Miss Jane Edwards who has been teacher of Latin in the Clearfield High school for the past four years left last evening for her home in Fairfield, Me. From there she will leave Saturday, May 19th for Liberty Me, where she will be united in marriage to Donald Matheison of that place.

While in Clearfield Miss Edwards made her home with her aunt, Mrs. Lydia Edwards on West Market street. She was a teacher of wonderful ability and won the love and respect of all her students. Each class of the High school presented Miss Edwards with a handsome gift yesterday morning following chapel. Miss Edwards took a very active part in Class No. 4 of the Presbyterian Sunday school from where she will be greatly missed.

She took with her the best wishes of a host of friends by whom she will always be remembered.

TAKES UP NEW DUTIES

Mr. J. E. Brown, who has been associated with the Wm. F. Powell Hardware company for several years, has taken up his duties with the Phillipsburg Hardware company, succeeding W. E. Peterson, who left the Phillipsburg company to engage in other work. Mr. Brown leaves a host of friends in Clearfield who are confident of his future success in Phillipsburg and who regret very much to see him and his family leave this city.

SPECIAL SALVATION MEETING

Rev. Clegg, of Curwensville, will preach tonight in the Salvation Army hall. He has preached the gospel for twenty years in England and the U. S. He has a very interesting style of delivery which always draws his hearers. His sermons are deep and serious but far from dry, usually giving saint and sinner something profitable to think about. Service at eight o'clock tonight. Everybody welcome.

MRS. W. F. CHAMBERS DIES

Mrs. W. F. Chambers, a well known Clearfield resident, died at her home on Reed street at 10 o'clock last night after a long illness aged about 60 years.

Mrs. Chambers was a devoted and consistent member of Trinity Methodist church and possessed a wide circle of warm friends. She is survived by her husband. Funeral announcement later.

Russ Coalition Cabinet Now Seems Certain

Workmen's And Soldier's Council Proceed To Name Delegates

By Wm. G. Shepherd

Petrograd, May 17.—The Workmen's and Soldier's delegates today nominated five radicals for the proposed coalition cabinet. Those selected were: Minister of Justice Malgouchev, a Socialist Democrat, Minister of Agriculture M. Tchernov, Revolutionary Socialist, Minister of Munitions M. Pjshchikov, People's Socialist. Ministers without portfolios were M. Sklof, Socialist Democrat, and M. Avksajontev, Revolutionary Socialist. It is now apparent that the crucial period in the dispute between the one hand and the Duma leaders on the other is past. Formation of the coalition cabinet which will support both sides now seems certain.

NEW YORK WORLD CHARGES TREACHERY

(By United Press)

New York, May 16.—Declaring Congress guilty of treachery to the United States the New York World today pleaded for quick action on the army bill.

"It is difficult to write temperately when treachery to the United States, its allies, and the cause of human freedom is revealed by the treatment of the army bill at the hands of Congress," said the World. "A more shameful or shocking example would be difficult to stage even in distracted Russia."

NECESSITY OF PRODUCING AN EXTRA POUND OF POULTRY PRODUCT FOR EVERY MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD IN THE U. S.

(By E. E. Richards, Pres. of the American Poultry Asso.)

Before another hatching season, the great United States will, no doubt, be in the deepest throes of the world's most cruel war and no one can foretell the countless thousands that may be crying for bread. It is up to the United States, the world's greatest, richest, and most resourceful nation, to not only look after the welfare of her own citizens, but to give aid and assistance in supplying food to countless thousands of suffering humanity in the torn and stricken war zone. The great agricultural resources of America must prepare to assume this burden. Every one of us must do our bit. Every acre, every nook and corner must bear its share. It is lucky that in poultry we can produce the cheapest and most quickly produced meat of all the various sources of our meat supply. Here, we have an opportunity of producing an extra one hundred million pounds if the American farmers, the fanciers and breeders will give their attention to hatching during the months of May and June.

It is a well known fact that the available supply of meat products today is the lowest in our country, per capita, in the history of the United States. In order to meet the extremely dangerous condition, we have within ourselves a wonderful opportunity of aiding what may prove to be a world-wide cry for food. Let us all join enthusiastically in the propaganda of helping in the probable time of need, by putting forth now every effort to meet, in a measure, the demand that is sure to come for untold quantities of food stuffs. Never in the history of the world will there be a greater demand than in the next twenty-four months that are to follow.

For the past twenty-four months we have been killing the goose that has been laying the golden egg, and with the hue and cry of costly feed, poultry and all meat products have been soaring far above all the usual estimates as to the relative cost of production, and the selling price. The margin of profit on the production of eggs and poultry for meat is far in excess of the percentage of profit in normal times. But aside from the question of profit, we Americans must look at the situation from a philanthropic and humanitarian standpoint and each and every one "do his bit" to meet an exigency that seems inevitable. Let us all try to be a factor in the production of an extra hundred million pounds of poultry meat which is less than one pound additional for each man, woman and child in the United States.

The United States Department of Agriculture has just issued an estimate that upwards of seven hundred millions of dollars is the annual tribute paid by Americans to the garbage can. Why not convert this into feed to produce poultry and eggs.

Every home can have a self-supporting and profitable flock in the back yard by converting the offal from the table and kitchen into the very choicest of poultry feed. Why such an astounding waste, an utter extravagance that costs us nearly seven dollars for every man, woman and child in the United States? Let every home have a neat poultry house and a few well kept, profitable fowls. The editor of this publication will be only too pleased to co-operate with every reader desiring any information.

It is not unusual for the fanciers to quit hatching with April. Let me urge that hatching be continued during the months of May and June and also during July in a large part of our country. Let the old hen do her part—fill up the incubators—keep them going through May and June—the results will be worth while. Let us be prepared to consume every bit of table and kitchen scraps and make them a source of profit.

German Intrigue In Vatican Circles Thwarted By Italian Secret Service

By Frank Getty
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, May 1.—(By Mail)—A tale of German intrigue reaching into the inner circles of the Vatican, involving the hasty flight of Cardinal Gerlach from Italy, the cracking of a safe in the secret headquarters of the German Embassy at Vienna, and the mysterious escape from prison of Italy's two most notorious criminals, was told for the first time today to the United Press by a reliable authority. Stranger than fiction, the true story of the inside workings of the Italian secret service in tracking down the pro-German element of the Pope's court forms a dramatic chapter in the secret history of the war. On the sixth of April, Vienna dispatches announced the burglary of a house, adjoining "but having no connection with," the German Embassy.

A large sum of money was said to have been secured by the robbers, who escaped.

The same night a sensation was caused in Rome by the flight of Cardinal Gerlach across the Swiss border. Italian secret service agents burst in the doors of His Eminence's house two hours after his escape and discovered the machinations of a score of pro-German plots. The next day more than three hundred arrests resulted throughout Italy.

This, for ten days, was all the world knew concerning the workings of the German espionage system. No one connected an insignificant robbery in the Austrian capital with the Cardinal's disappearance and the wholesale arrests of German agents.

Another event which caused little interest at the time of its occurrence, yet which had a direct bearing on the successful breaking up of the Teuton spy nest, was the reported "escape" early in January, of two of Italy's most notorious safe crackers, who had been incarcerated for life in prison at Rome.

What has never been disclosed, until today is the fact that a warrant for their release was signed by the Perfect of the Italian police himself, and that each of the criminals was later given $10,000 by the Italian government. The service they rendered the government proved well worth the price.

For more than two years the Italian secret service, extending its research over a far greater ground than one realizes even today, had succeeded in tracing certain pro-German plots and intrigue in Italy to Vienna. In the Austrian capital, spies succeeded in narrowing the search down to a certain house, adjoining "but having no connection with," the German Embassy.

Had they acted hastily, the spies might have burgled the house, robbed the safe, and even laid hands on a certain set of precious papers the Italian government was keenly interested in. But that is as far as they would have gotten. For attached to the bundle of documents so highly desired by three governments was an intricate series of wires. With almost devilish ingenuity the Germans had provided that if the safe were opened and the papers moved, a cloud of poison gas, deadly in effect, would envelop the disturber and render the entire room in which the safe was located uninhabitable. At the same time a cleverly devised burglar alarm would call sufficient military police to the scene to deal with any number of intruders.

When every detail of the hiding place of the papers had been learned, the secret service agents reported in detail to Rome. On a favorable dark night the "escape" of the famous safe crackers from the prison outside of the Italian capital was arranged and effected. Promised their freedom and ten thousand dollars apiece if they succeeded, the criminals had agreed to undertake the dangerous mission.

How they were smuggled into Vienna one will ever know, but when they did undertake the robbery of the safe, they were provided with gas masks and every tool for safe opening known to the police and criminal world. Cracking the safe and evading the certain death of the alarm signals was a comparatively simple matter for these Jimmy Valentine's of Italy and the papers, which incriminated prominent personages throughout Italy were soon in the possession of the secret service.

For obvious reasons they could not instantly communicate their knowledge to headquarters at Rome, and in the meantime, while announcing the robbery of a "large sum of money," the Austrians succeeded, by means of a secret wireless, in communicating with Cardinal Gerlach, who

His Wife Was Sitting on the Throne.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

ILSABILL GOT A CASTLE.

(Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.)

THIS is how the bedtime story began: "A fisherman's wife had a discontented nature, I fear," said daddy. "When she got a cottage she wanted a castle, and the fish-prince who gave her the cottage arranged to give her a castle."

"So when her husband went home after begging this last favor he found his wife standing by the gate of a great castle."

"See," she cried, "isn't this grand?" "They went into the castle together and found a great many servants there. The rooms were all richly furnished with golden chairs and tables. Behind the castle stood a garden and around it a park half a mile long. It was full of goats and sheep and hares and deer, and in the courtyard were stables and cow-houses."

"Heyday!" cried the fisherman. "Cheerful and happy, now we will live together in this beautiful castle the rest of our days."

"Perhaps," said Ilsabill, his wife. "But let us sleep upon it before we decide that."

"So they went to bed in the new castle."

The next morning when Dame Ilsabill awoke it was broad daylight. She jogged her fisherman with her elbow, saying: "Get up, husband. Restir your self, for we must be rulers of the land."

"How can you be queen? Even the enchanted prince can't make you queen of the land," said her surprised husband.

"Say no more about it, but try, as I tell you," said she, "for I will be queen."

"So the fisherman went away very sorrowful to think his wife wanted to be queen. This time the sea looked a dark gray color and was overspread with curling waves and ridges of foam. Said he:

"O man of the sea, hearken to me! My wife Ilsabill will have her own will and hath sent me to beg a boon of thee!"

"What will please her now?" inquired the fish-prince.

"Alas," cried the fisherman, "my wife wants to be a queen!"

"Go home," advised the enchanted fish, "for your wife is queen now!"

The fisherman went home. As he neared the castle he saw a troop of soldiers and heard the sound of trumpets and drums, and inside he found his wife sitting upon a throne all covered with diamonds and gold. Daddy finished

A Few Items From A Well Stocked Store That Are Being Sold At Prices That Smack of "Before-the-War" Values

It has taken a lot of hunting for values to keep our prices to these "before-the-war" values—oftentimes we have looked over several different lines before deciding to buy of one article. We're passing them along to you, though, with the realization that you appreciate our efforts and will avail yourself of the savings or, where the values are no quite as good as we have been accustomed to giving, they are the best that careful, conservative selection can make them.

PIN THIS UPON WIFE'S DRESSER

Warns women against cutting corns and says they lift right out

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, they cut and trim at all these painful pests which merely makes the corn grow harder. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called freeze-one applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of freezeone, which costs very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is gummy but it dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

DEAR ENEMY

By Jean Webster
Author of "Daddy-Long-Legs"

Like "Daddy-Long-Legs" this is a story told in letters—equally as appealing and unforgettable.

How Sally McBride is persuaded by her good friends, Jervis and Judy Pendleton to assume charge of an orphan asylum and how she succeeds is all told in her delightful letters to the Pendletons, to Gordon Hallock and to Dr. Rabbin Robbin MacRae, the "Dear Enemy" of the title.

This is an exceptional opportunity for those who desired this quaint little book when it first appeared at the copyright price. We are now selling

CURWENSVILLE

A preliminary meeting to prepare for the organization of Curwensville Auxiliary of Clearfield Chapter of the Red Cross society of America was held at 4 P. M. Wednesday, at the Patton school. Mrs. R. D. Swoope presiding and Miss Maggie Eckbert as secretary. Mrs. Swoope explained the need of such an organization, its methods and work. On the payment of one dollar as annual dues and agreeing to aid in the Red Cross work anyone may become a member; such money is equally divided between the national society and the local work. As women are asking what they can do to help in this war the answer is: To help through the Red Cross. Varied are the articles that may be made and among them are socks, wristlets, mufflers, surgical dressings, slings, pillows, compresses. Materials for work including muslin and linen will be needed. It is a patriotic privilege for every man and woman of this community to join this auxiliary and to engage actively in its work. In the near future a great meeting for the community will be held at which well informed speakers will present the great work of the Red Cross society following which the large Curwensville auxiliary of the Red Cross society of America will be fully and formally organized.

Paul G. Robinson, who has for some time been in Ashland, N. C., is now located at Chattanooga, Tenn., with Co. 10 training military branch.

A. E. Temple was circulating Wednesday among old friends here being entertained by William Miller. Mr. Temple is a member of the United States marine corps in which he is about to complete his enlistment of four years. He was called to Patton to attend the funeral of his father W. R. Temple, who died recently. Mr. Temple returned to the Philadelphia Navy Yard where he is stationed.

Tuesday evening there arrived at the home of Joseph P. Robinson and wife, their grandson Thomas A. Robinson, a student of Yale University, for a short visit en route for his home at Pittsburgh. Mr. Robinson will sail shortly for France where he is to be engaged in the field ambulance service.

Word was received that James Manaval of South Side and Miss Ray Tate, of near Richmond, Va., were united in marriage in Philadelphia on Monday, May 7, 1917. Their many friends here wish them a happy wedded life.

The following are some of the recipients of prizes given away at R. R. Robinson's store Monday evening:

1st prize, kitchen cabinet, Walter Addelman.
2nd prize, chair, Harry Cross.
3rd prize, rug, Mrs. L. Errigo.
4th prize, chair, Mrs. Fruman Smith.
5th prize, suit case, James Harvey, Jr.
6th, rug, Lyman Daugherty.
7th prize water set, Scott Ammerman.

There was a large crowd present.

After the regular prayer meeting in the Presbyterian church last evening a congregational meeting was held.

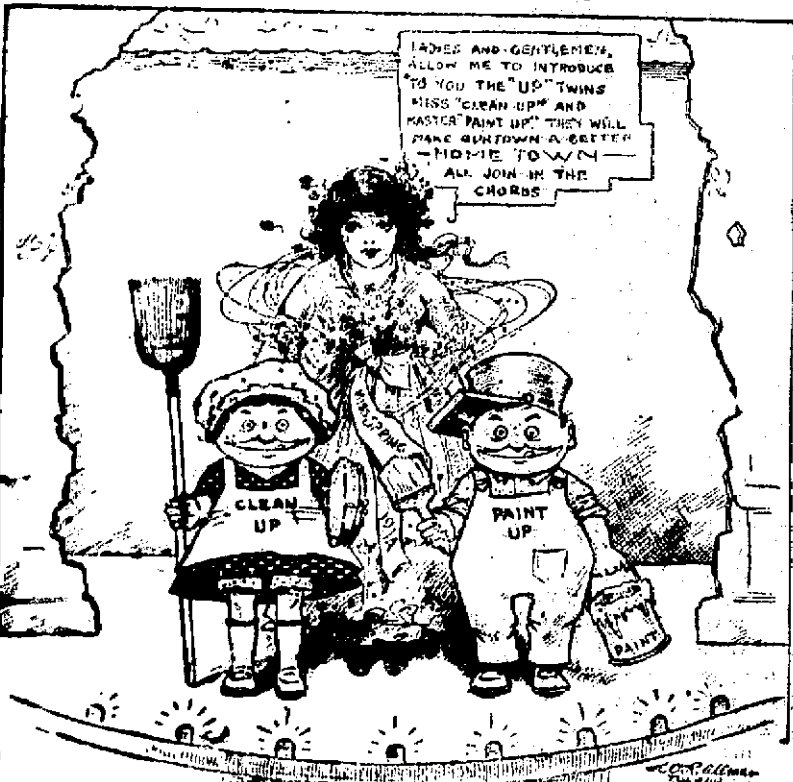

Miss Lulu Haag was taken to the Clearfield hospital suffering from an attack of typhoid fever.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, you can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear full of the nation by going without years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet expedient it is expected to save let requisite. It is not intended for more than a thousand dollars, which the cure, mitigation or prevention of will be

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or have Bladder trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poisons, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Girls of Mount Holyoke College have decided to do their "GIR" in behalf of the nation by going without years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet expedient it is expected to save let requisite. Doris Moore is happy in village life. She adores the village minister, Leland, of a band of crooks comes to village to induce the minister and his trustees to purchase an organ for their church. The crooks planned to collect in advance, and fail to deliver the organ.

Unaccustomed to men of that type, Doris believes his honeyed words and false praise.
The crooks learn that William Lake is returning East with a large sum of money. Leland sees an opportunity to use Doris to further his schemes, and induces her to go to the city with him.

Priscilla Kate, at whose house the crooks operate, is won over by Doris' innocence and appeal and warns the crooks that she intends to see that harm comes to the girl.
Leland finds Lake and Doris together and says Doris is married to him accuses Lake of making love to his wife, and demands blackmail. See the thrilling ending of this story at the Globe theatre tomorrow.

RECRUITING NEWS

Oscar W. Gearhart, of Clearfield, who successfully passed the physical examination at the DuBois recruiting office for enlistment in the hospital corps, was sent home subject to later call on account of being married.

George D. Benton, and L. I. Muison of Karthaus, William Nadolon, Herbert T. Donahue and Anthony Redlitz of DuBois; G. C. Henry and J. B. Newcomer, of Mahaffey, are the latest Clearfield county recruits to be sent to Fort Slocum from the DuBois recruiting office.

George E. Hirst of DuBois, enlisted in the engineers regiment at the Pittsburgh recruiting office yesterday.

W. C. Lippart, Albert Ross and Hepburn Showers went to DuBois yesterday and enlisted in the U. S. army and left today for Fort Slocum, New York.

Clarence Austin, William Wallace and William Reed, three Clearfield boys who have enlisted in the Pittsburgh regiment of engineers which is to be sent to France at once, arrived in town yesterday and will visit home folks for a short time before reporting for duty.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Flegal received word today from their son Walter who is a member of the officers training corps located at Fort Riley Kansas. Walter says he is a member of Co. No. 11 and is most advantageously located and enjoying the life immensely.

In our mention yesterday of Leo Shillen who enlisted in the Quartermaster's department of the army at New York, we desire to state that he is at present an employee of the United States Steel company and located in their New York offices. When turned down by the examining surgeon on account of a defective heart he immediately consulted a heart specialist who pronounced him sound as a dollar and armed with the specialist's report he again presented himself for examination and this time his persistence won and he was enrolled as a Sergeant of the first class. He will be employed as a stenographer. His term of enlistment is for four years with release from active duty when the war ends.

These Are Days To Test This Store's Ability To Serve You

An Unusual Sale of Coats and Coats for Friday, Saturday and Monday

Important Sale of Women's Suits at $19.75

This sale is important because of the fact that prices are VERY RADICALLY reduced. If we were to name the former prices of the suits the reductions would stand out very, very strong but we do not quote former prices. It is because of this fact that our customers have come to learn that when there is an announcement of reduced prices at THIS store, it is worthy of VERY serious and immediate attention.

In the lot are suits of Poret twill, gabardine, serge and silk. As a matter of course all the accepted styles of the season are included.

A Very Special offering of Women's Coats at $14.95

Every coat in the lot reduced from former costs. And the former prices were low enough to make these coats MIGHTY GOOD VALUES. The styles are becoming to most every woman. They are made of poplin and serge, etc. and are well tailored.

Ready for Graduation Girls, Graduation Dresses in Lovely New Styles at $17.50, $19.75, $35

Store Editorial

Men and Women Farmers of the Nation Awaken to the Call of the Nation.

A great opportunity presents itself to men and women in every walk of life to be of great help in the present crisis. You can not alone help the Nation but greatly profit yourself by raising more, and more, and more food stuffs.

First of all, let us say that there is going to be more money in the United States of America than ever before. Think of spending SEVEN BILLION DOLLARS in this country for food stuffs, and equipment for the army. Think of the thousands upon thousands of men and women who are to be employed raising food stuffs and turning out the products of the factories.

The only thing we need is a big supply of food. We urge you to plant corn, wheat, potatoes and other food stuffs AT ONCE. Remember, YOU are the one who benefits most.

A. W. LEONARDSON COMPANY

GLASS OF WATER BEFORE YOU EAT ANY BREAKFAST

Wash poison from system each morning and feel fresh as a daisy

Every day you clean the house you live in to get rid of the rust and dirt which collected through the previous day. Your body, the house your soul lives in, also becomes filled up each twenty-four hours with all manner of filth and poison. If only every man and woman could realize the wonders of drinking phosphated hot water, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sick, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pesty or muddy complexion; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags," and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

Everyone, whether sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarted pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those practicing internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.
